 - The committee and Vice Chancellor Boehm discussed the importance of all educators, both tenured and non-tenured, to work together to move IANR's strategic vision forward

 - The committee was tasked with considering whether or not the tour should be open to more than just IANR faculty, prioritizing the tour visits, and brainstorming ways to connect more university employees with the citizens of Nebraska through this event
- Liaison Committee
 - The committee decided to meet in person with the Vice Chancellor twice a semester for two full hours, while the faculty on the committee will also have conversations on their own (either virtually or in person) to discuss their input on issues and topics ahead of the meetings with the Vice Chancellor

Action Items for Committee:

- Attend and share details of President Bounds' forums
- Brainstorm Road Scholars Tour (there will be a special meeting just for this topic)
- Look at APC document
- Figure out what how the role of the Liaison committee is similar and different to other faculty groups and let the Vice Chancellor know what he should expect from this particular group

Meeting adjourned at 12:30pm
